

"The Ottawa Spotlight"

(By Wilfrid Eggleston)

A Weekly Review of National Affairs
Ottawa, July 22.—The report that Mr. Bennett will not leave a caucus of federal members early next month to discuss the leadership of the party has revived discussion on the subject of his successor. Ottawa does not yet know officially if Mr. Bennett plans to retire. Nor has it any official inkling as to his plans when he does. The trend of opinion favours, however, to ward the impression that he will announce his decision to retire, when the federal members are assembled here in August. No doubt before a successor is chosen it will be necessary to hold a national convention, but a house leader might be named in the meantime.

The Nova Scotia elections had some bearing on the matter, after being commented. Had there been any signs of a revival of Conservatism, Mr. Bennett might have been willing to give his thirteen years of a while longer to the cause. Gordon Harrington, had he won in the Maritime, would have become a sort of lieutenant of Mr. Bennett's and, because of his zeal for social reform, might have been to the next Conservative leader. But the tide was against the Conservatives there, Colonel Harrington went down to personal defeat, and all those dreams were rapidly shattered.

It is really extraordinary how lacking the Conservative party is at the moment in outstanding leaders who could step into Mr. Bennett's shoes tomorrow, if need be. There are some very able men, but several of them are getting on, and others have not got on far enough. They are too old or too young.

Might Have Been

Tom H. H. Stevens, perhaps, has occasional regrets that he was so fortunate in 1924. One hears it said, in the capital, that he would be the obvious successor to Mr. Bennett, had he not parted company three years ago. Now the rank and file would not forgive him, nor would his old colleagues. Hon. H. J. Munro is a money way the leading contender for Mr. Bennett's post. If he were a member of the Ontario Lodge, his qualifications would be perfect.

There are several other candidates of which, in my own opinion, Earl Rowe has the best chance. There is Charles M. A. MacPherson of Regina, Earl Lawson, Erick Willis, Denton Massey and Maurice Duplessis.

In addition to a new program, the Conservative party needs a new program and some new ambitious, according to critics within the party. It is in the lowest ebb in many respects. Those who have seen it disintegrate from its high position, the peak of which was reached in 1924, have a pretty good idea what combination of circumstances brought it down, and what will be needed to build it up again.

Gigantic Problem

Once more the western drought area is a gigantic national problem, although the rains of last week lightened the weight of it materially. The Dominion Government is prepared to spend $15,000,000 or so to relieve the needs of those in the stricken area, and it has also under way a ten million dollar drought rehabilitation program spread over the next four or five years. Oddly enough, while realizing that a considerable portion of the dry area has suffered the most intense and destructive drought since it was settled, there is a growing conviction among the authorities that the long drought cycle has been broken, and that some years of abnormally high precipitation are about to arrive. The higher price of wheat this year coupled with the good crops of wheat of the Dominion, tend to ease the blow which another wheat failure over a vast area would otherwise have made a very heavy one indeed.

How rapidly the wheat situation has swung from one side of the pendulum to the other is emphasized by the Turgon royal commission, which was created as such a symbol of hope.

PREMIER KING'S ADDRESS
To repeat the radio address by Prime Minister King would be like carrying coal to Newcastle as no doubt every radio was tuned in to hear this message.

A few of the headlines which have been outstanding in their significance were—None of the European nations want war.

The various notes of the Empire discussed their problems, with the utmost cordiality and frankness. The British Empire is a menace to no people, but rather ensuring peace and the fruits of peace.

Two convictions long held—
1—How terrible a thing is Hate.
2—How necessary a thing is Goodwill.

We must look beneath the surface and find what is in the hearts of men and women. The policy of extreme Nationalism has now outlived its day. It is going to take time—possibly a long time—to complete the transition through which all countries are passing in the readjustments which border upon the making of a new order. But that they can be made without adding widespread international conflict to the difficulties already to face, I have not the least doubt.

In concluding his address the prime minister, referring to differences within Canada which, if allowed to develop would breed antagonism it would be next to impossible to heal, paid tribute to Sir John A. Macdonald, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Robert Borden for their efforts to maintain the unity of Confederation. The men of their day in the provinces and at Ottawa, were equal to the great task by which all alike were confronted. They met them one by one. We shall meet our problems in a like way; and we, also, shall succeed.

VERNON WATSON IN FATAL CAR ACCIDENT

A very sad accident occurred Thursday last near Carleton Place when a car with four young men occupants, skidded in the muddy roads and overturned, pinning Vernon Watson, age 16, underneath, after he was thrown through the window. Others in the car were the deceased's brother Bob Watson, Dick Tatum and Arthur Frithcraft who was driving.

The death was purely accidental, as found at the inquest conducted Friday evening by Dr. J. W. Giffen, coroner, Constable J. Carter, R.C.M.P., also giving evidence, and no blame is attached to anyone.

The deceased was a very bright and cheerful disposition, and will be sorely missed in his home, and by a large number of associates with whom he was a general favorite.

An impressive funeral service was held at the United Church Sunday at 11 a.m. conducted by Rev. V. M. Giffen, with the hymns "Magnificent" and "There are no Goodbyes in Heaven".

Floral bearers were Misses Alice and Margaret Groves, Anna Downey, Cecily Tudor, Phyllis Siddons and Robert Lawson. The Pall bearers were Wm. Tudor, Jack Groves, Woodrow and Harold Downey, Art Frithcraft and Stanley Cooke. Both floral and pall bearers being associates of Vernon. Burial was made in Strathmore cemetery, Chase and Co. 400 FARMERS MEET AT HUSKAR TO DISCUSS DROUGHT PROBLEMS
Huskar—Last Saturday afternoon 400 young men gathered at Huskar for a consideration of methods of relief for this drought-stricken area. Representatives were present from Huskar, Strathmore, Claresholm, Leroy, Wayne, Hainsboro, Cluny, Croftcroft and Stokewood.

The meeting was presided over by F. J. Mueller and his secretary was Axel Axelsson of Wayne. J. M. McGuire, M. L. A. of Gleichen, N. F. Nelson and Axel Larson of Strathmore, A. H. H. of Claresholm, L. V. Schindler and C. A. Blake of Huskar were the principal speakers. It was very evident that all must be given the above assistance.

Several resolutions were passed. The first stated that, owing to conditions beyond local control, farmers find themselves in desperate circumstances, as the basic industry of this part of Alberta is agriculture, and as they must have substantial assistance in order to carry on until another crop year, it was resolved to petition for a federal grant of $5.00 per acre on all summer fallowed land cropped in 1937, less any net proceeds from same. This petition was signed by 200 resident farmers.

Resolution No. 2, owing to complete crop failure, demanded a reduction in land taxation commensurate to its productive value. Resolution No. 3, as a result of the food emergency, asked that full rye seed be provided to those who require it, provided weather and land conditions are favorable. Resolution No. 4, asked that, whereas last year forced sales of cattle had to be made through private buyers, this year sales be handled through an agency to assure a fair return to owners. Resolution No. 5 asked that the honorable Ministers of Agriculture and the demand made by them meet a public gathering of these farmers in Huskar at a time convenient to them to discuss the present relief situation. Resolution No. 6 asked that all districts in like circumstances be requested to send in similar resolutions.

WEDDINGS

JACKSON—WRAY

On Monday, July 19th the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Jackson of Chisle was the scene of a pretty wedding when Daisy Evelyn Wray, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Wray, formerly of Calgary, now residing in British Columbia, became the bride of Emory George Jackson, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. George Jackson. Mr. H. E. Gordon of Langdon officiated.

Attendants were Miss Alice Brownie and Mr. Robert Jackson. Only the immediate family and a few intimate friends were present.

Mr. Jackson taught at Fairplay school for the past 4 years.

After a short honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Jackson will be at home to their friends at Bonnie Dene Farm, Chisle.

KINDNESS RECIPROCATED
Four ladies from Vegreville and vicinity were monitoring east of Calgary when a passing car forced them into the ditch where their car became stalled. Joe McQuigley who works for Paul Maclellan near Strathmore went to their assistance and in cranking the marooned car he unfortunately dislocated his thumb and broke a small bone in his wrist. The ladies drove McQuigley to the hospital, paid for two X-rays, the Doctor's bill and are providing $15.00 per day while he is off work. A practical application of The Golden Rule on the part of both parties.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

By H. G. L. Strange
Director, Research Department,
Searle Grain Company, Ltd.

One picture is worth 10,000 words. This is a Chinese proverb, thousands of years old, and, as with all Chinese aphorisms, contains the very essence of truth itself.

The "Crop Testing Plan" took a curious course years ago from this Chinese proverb, and, by growing samples which represent farmers' actual fields of wheat, make "living pictures" of thousands of individual fields in order to demonstrate to the eye their true nature, or, whether they contain undesirable, unprofitable mixtures.

These "field pictures" or demonstrations may be seen during the next few weeks growing at over 100 points in Western Canada, and field days are held during which the material is demonstrated and explained by expert Cerealsists and Plant Breeders.

The plots show in addition the new rust resistant wheat varieties with, some new crops gathered from the four corners of the earth, of interest to Canadian farmers. It would be worth the time of all who are interested in the advancement of agriculture to attend one of these field days, the object of it all being to improve wheat quality, and so to help sell the farmers' wheat prices, hence finally to increase the income of the Western farmer.

The following factors have tended to raise prices—Rust—damage arising from U. S. A. winter and spring wheat crops in Manitoba. Wheat crop of Manchuria, Japan and China estimated 120 millions less than last year. Drought conditions prevail in southern hemisphere—China and Japan—China buying U. S. gold—European deciduous fruit prospects less favorable.

The following factors have tended to lower prices—U. S. A. Department of Agriculture estimates U. S. wheat crop $2 million—India exports wheat freely—Record crop expected in Greece—French crop larger than last year—Balkan States harvest larger crop than expected—Heavy rains in Western Canada.

DROUGHT AREA WILL COME BACK

There is hope yet for the drought areas of Western Canada. Parts of the so-called "dust bowl" in the United States have had very satisfactory crops this year, a little extra rain having made a great difference.

Many farmers in the prairie West have treated the land badly. It is on the authority of western soil experts that one can make the statement that large areas of the best wheat land in the West have been "ruined." Some years ago Hon. John Bracken, then a professor in the agricultural school at Saskatoon, published a book on "Dry Farming in Western Canada" in which he anticipated present drought conditions and, together with a group of other experts, gave advice on ways and means of preparing the soil to meet the more or less rainless year.

Few farmers can be said to have followed the advice wholeheartedly.
Farmers cannot be blamed for lack of rain. All they can do is treat the soil with respect so that drought years will not permanently damage it.
"Rain will come again in the Canadian 'desert'." So much we can hope from a study of long-term meteorological records. It is a tragedy that it did not come again this year. But it will come, maybe next year, maybe not for a longer period.

Meantime the distress in Southern Saskatchewan and Alberta continues to rest as in past years upon the shoulders of the country as a whole as a national problem calling for generous and unselfish aid.

If Canada will but see these Provinces through, that area will again pay bountiful returns to the nation. And when those returns come again it will be necessary to be more long sighted in farming methods to guard against the erosion of another drought period.
For while it is certain that rain will again fall in the dry areas it is also certain that drought will strike again
some day.—Financial Post.

BIG INCREASE IN TURNER VALLEY OUTPUT

Crude oil production has been nearly doubled in Turner Valley during the past month without a single new well being brought in. The secret is acidi-tion. The acid treatment of six out of 33 crude producers has nearly doubled the total output of oil. A month's production at the present daily flow would total more than 130,000 barrels of crude oil as compared with about 50,000 barrels, the total output of the 13 wells for a month before acidation came to the Valley.

An expenditure of less than $100,000
has brought an increase of more than $150,000 a month in the returns from the sale of Turner Valley crude.

Before the advent of acidation the daily output of the 13 wells totalled something like 3,010 barrels or 90,000 barrels per month. The average price paid for Turner Valley crude at the well head is $1.70, making the crude oil industry, as at one month ago, worth about $152,500 per month. Today the daily production is greater than 5,865 barrels or 175,950 barrels monthly, valued to the industry at more than $104,215 per month.

Acidate Every Three Months
How often a well can be given this rejuvenating treatment is questionable
but at present it is planned to retreat
the wells about every three months. It is too soon yet to know the ultimate results of acidation, but it is believed that the first two or three treatments will result in an increase in production, and that subsequent treatments would maintain the peak flow.

A PRAYER

Give me work to do.
Give me health.
Give me joy and simple things,
Give me an eye for beauty.
A tongue for truth,
A heart that loves,
A mind that reasons,
A sympathy that understands,
Give me neither malice nor envy.
But a true kindness,
And a noble common sense.
At the close of each day
Give me a book,
And a friend with whom I can be silent.

OWNERS DELIGHTED WITH OLDSMOBILE ECONOMY

You'll be money ahead by owning
A THRIFTY, DEPENDABLE OLDSMOBILE

HALF the fun of driving an Oldsmobile is the way it saves you money. It's great to own a car so big and roomy—so smart and spirited—but the real satisfaction comes when you check motoring costs and find that Oldsmobile operating and upkeep costs are right down with the lowest. Owners will tell you that Oldsmobile delivers unusually high mileage on gasoline and oil. They will also prove to you that it requires the minimum of servicing... because of Oldsmobile's quality engineering and precision workmanship.

Look at Oldsmobile's price tag! Convince yourself that it is "The Car That Has Everything", with such fine-car features as Unisteel Turret Top Body by Fisher—Knee-Action—Dual Ride Stabilizers—Cross Steering with Center Control—Super Hydraulic Brakes—
and Fisher No-Draft Ventilation. Then come for a trial drive in an Oldsmobile today. Ask about the low monthly payments to suit your purse on the General Motors Instalment Plan.
